

Glass Road Public Relations

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

April 13, 2007

Contact: Kathy Carlton Willis

(615) 477-3873; kathy@glassroadpr.com

MYSTERY & MAYHEM AT WORLD'S FAIR Best-selling Novelist Carol Cox Releases Fair Game

(NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE) Dinah Mayhew couldn't foresee the mystery and danger that would soon enter her life when she became a file clerk for the 1893 World's Fair in Chicago. Neither could Seth Howell, the man whose eyes reflect a romantic interest mirrored in Dinah's heart.

Fair Game

ISBN # 978-59789-491-3

Available April 2007

$9.97

Fiction/General/Romance
Barbour Publishing, Inc.

involved in her local historical society and plans to write more historical inspirational romance in which her goals are to encourage Christian readers with entertaining and uplifting stories and to pique the interests of non-Christians who might read her novels.

But the arrival of Dinah's cousin could be the frost on their romantic bloom.

Cousin Gladys is on the prowl for love and she's looking in all the wrong places. Upon her sudden, inexplicable disappearance, Dinah and Seth begin searching for answers, only to find themselves trapped in a maze of secrecy and deception. Will they live to expose the truth or find themselves facing the point of no return?

Praise for Carol Cox and A Ticket to Tomorrow, book one in the series:

"Carol Cox is one of my very favorite authors...a wonderful blend of historical suspense and romance...and a setting so vivid I could breathe in the scent of Lake Michigan. Ms Cox owns the genre!"

Colleen Coble, best-selling author of Alaska Twilight

"...a book you don't want to miss...vibrant, memorable characters and a poignant message of forgiveness. Well done!"

Judith Miller, author of First Dawn and Morning Sky

CAROL COX is a native of Arizona whose time is devoted to being a pastor's wife, mom to her grown son, and a home-school teacher to her young daughter. She also serves as church pianist and youth worker. She is

###